

ONLINE ACADEMIC WRITING PROGRAMMES IN ENGLISH & HINDI: Round 2

A REPORT

The Writing Centre in ILL, University of Delhi conducted the 2nd round of Online Academic Writing Programmes in English and Hindi for undergraduate students of the University of Delhi. The programme began on the 7th of February with an online inaugural session in which the student participants were introduced to the course and addressed by the Director and Joint Director of ILL. There were biweekly classes which ended on the 26th of March for English and on the 27th of March for Hindi.

There were 27 students in English and 6 students in Hindi. A total of 21 tutors were involved in the one-on-one tutoring of students with each student having one half hour tutoring session per week. There were 3 resource persons in English and 2 in Hindi. One session on Library Resources was conducted in common for all the students by an external expert. The bi-weekly one and a half hour classes were held in workshop mode. All classes and tutoring were online. Google Meet Business Standard was used for the classes. Links were shared by mail and through Whatsapp.

Tutors were given online orientation and then invited for an offline onboarding session in ILL on the 23rd of January. The session was conducted by Prof Veena Kapur, Dr Minakshi Lahkar and Prof Tasneem Shahnaaz. The tutors were also addressed by the ILL functionaries: Prof Sanjoy Roy, the Director, and Prof Yukti Sharma, the Joint Director.
